

Think Central

The math and reading assessments that we do in class will be entered on Think Central. Each student has an account that you can use to access their assessment scores. You will also be able to access their reading book, and math games that align with what we're learning on there as well. Each student signs into their account independently in class. If you are having trouble signing in, I would suggest asking your child to sign into their account. If they are not able to help, please contact me. I want to make sure that you have access to this amazing resource!

Your child's user name should be:

first initial and last name

example: Alisha Wells= awells

Your child's password should be: eagle
